It also shows that the country is facing a
serious food shortage
and that the government
is unable to meet its
basic needs.

3. The third part of the report
deals with the
recommendations of the
committee.
It shows that the
committee recommends
that the government
should take the following
steps:

- a. To reduce the government expenditure.
- b. To increase the tax revenue.
- c. To improve the efficiency of the public services.

4. The fourth part of the report
deals with the
conclusions of the
committee.
It shows that the
committee concludes that the country is in a state of economic crisis and that the government is unable to meet its basic needs.

5. The fifth part of the report
deals with the
recommendations of the
committee.
It shows that the
committee recommends
that the government
should take the following
steps:

THE LATE JOHN LEVI JEROME

John Levi Jerome was born in Flint, Michigan, October 10, 1910. His father died when John was four years old, and his mother Aug. 30, 1953. His parents names were Fred Jerome and Margaret Costello.

He was a football star, graduated from Flint Central High School in 1931. He worked two years at the A.C. Spark Plug Co., and joined the Police Force Mar. 1, 1934. Was promoted to Detective Aug. 15, 1949. On July 1, 1953 advanced to Detective Sergeant. On December 20, 1955 to Detective Lieutenant.

Much of his time was spent in the Crime Detention Bureau as head of the Vice Squad.

He was a Member of the Elks, Flint Police Benefit Assn., and The Saginaw Valley Law Enforcement Assn, also President of the 20th Century Mixed Doubles Bowling Club.

In his work he was called upon to play many different rolls. It was John L. Jerome the Police Officer who played the roll of a crooked Cop to snare two suspected police bribers.

He became ill a year ago and thought he had only a backache when he returned from a short vacation. The quiet mannered officer died at Hurley Hospital Nov. 26, 1957, the victim of Cancer of the Lymph.

During the last year, he made frequent trips to the Hospital but to no avail. The pipe smoking policeman was under terrific strain during the trial of the racketeers.

He married Genevieve Galeneau Sept. 30. 1933. There are three children: Frederick in the Air Force, Madonna at home, and John Elmer age seven. His funeral was held Saturday Nov. 30, 1957.

The Detroit Free Press, The Detroit Times, The Flint Journal, and The State Journal carried details about his work and his early death at the age of 47 years.

The Detroit Times published this Article.

"With Very Special Dedication to Duty".

A FINE Policeman died in Flint, his name was John L. Jerome. He was a Detective Lieutenant who more than a year ago accepted the command of Flint's Vice Squad. Early this year, he tipped over a plot to bribe policemen in a gambling protection racket. The would-be corrupters were convicted. Lieu. John knew all the time that he cancer and was going to die, but he did his job and did it quietly and well never once flinched. That kind of determined unassuming courage we can and do admire. Would there was more of it every where."

Samuel Collins Jerome

from Vol. 2. Presidents, Soldiers, Statesmen.

Samuel Collins Jerome from Lucas County, Ohio, was born Oct. 6, 1837. was the son of Levi Z. and Julia Collins Jerome, both deceased but they were living at the outbreak of the Rebellion. He was enrolled Sept. 28. 1861 at Camp Dennison, Ohio, was in Battery H. 1st. O.L.A. as a private. In Oct. 1861, he was furloughed for 10 days, from Camp Dennison, Ohio. He returned to command at the expiration of the same, Dec. 17, 1861. He was injured by a horse running over him but he did not enter the hospital for the injury but was treated at the Co. Trs. Oct. 1862. He was detailed as Wagon Master at Alexandria, Virginia.

He took active part in Battles: Winchester, Edinburg, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg.

His grand father was a Captain in the War of 1812. A brother, Stephen Jerome, also served in the late War. His wife's father (John Stevens) was a soldier of the War of 1812. Her brother (John Hillman Stevens) was Capt. of the 5th Mich. V.I. infantry, He was wounded three times. and died at Hillman, Mich., 1892.

Marietta Lucy Stevens was the wife of Samuel Collins Jerome, married Apr. 2, 1868. she was born in Livingston County, Mich, June 2, 1843, Her parents were John and Lucy (White) Stevens, both are dead at this writing.

Seven children blessed this marriage: (Jeromes), May, Cora, Fred, John, Lucy, Ashton, and Seth.

Comrade belongs to Gov. Crapo Post. # 145, and receives a pension , is by occupation a farmer, living in Flint.

Samuel Collins Jerome was the grand father of the late John L. Jerome.

Sir Winston Churchill is the son of Jennie Jerome, and the grand son of Leonard Jerome. The Jeromes are proud of their Huguenot blood. Timothy Jerome the first to come to New England had sailed from the Isle of Wight about 1710. He found a home at Meriden, Conn. His son Samuel moved to Mass., and built a home two miles from Stockbridge. Samuel's son Aaron married Betsey Ball, a relative of George Washington . His eldest son was Isaac born in 1818. He was Leonard's father. The Churchill family are descendants of the Howland's. in 1807, Isaac married a young Scotch woman Aurora Murray, he entered the War of 1812, spent some time in the army , then moved to Syracuse, N.Y. Leonard was born 1818.

JONATHAN H. JEROME,
 from "DO YOU KNOW" pg 136,
 by Atwell and Collins, 1937.

Jonathan H. Jerome's old grey mare may not have been what she once was but she was enough to cause a stir in the Michigan Legislature on Feb. 6, 1836. The name of the equine like that of Paul Rever's gallant steed, has passed into oblivion, but in her day she almost caused a renewal of the Toledo War. Lewis Brown in the process taxes in Whitford Township, Monroe County, called on Jonathan H. Jerome for his contribution. Jonathan flatly refused to pay taxes to a Michigan collector because Ohio was taking his money. Brown was a good collector, and a Michigan Official also he refused to take no for an answer. Instead he went to the barn and kidnapped Jonathan H. Jerome's mare intending to sell her at auction to the highest bidder.

It could not be expected that Brown could get away with such treatment of an Ohio Patriot. He did not. On the day of the sale, Brown took the captive to the town square to begin the sale. At the same time, a Lucas County Official from Ohio, a constable and posse pounced on Brown and carried him to a magistrate, who sent him to cool his heels in the common jail at Maumee. The grey mare went back to her home with Jonathan H. Jerome and the news of the whole affair was rushed to the Governor in Detroit. He turned the affair over to the assembled Legislature with a request be appropriated to free Brown and carry the case to the Supreme Court. The case of the old grey mare provoked much anger in Michigan and the people hoped that it might lead to a Supreme Court decision which would reward the state with the area and a basis for admission."

Note: This is the same Jonathan H. Jerome who presided at the meeting in the school house in Ohio.

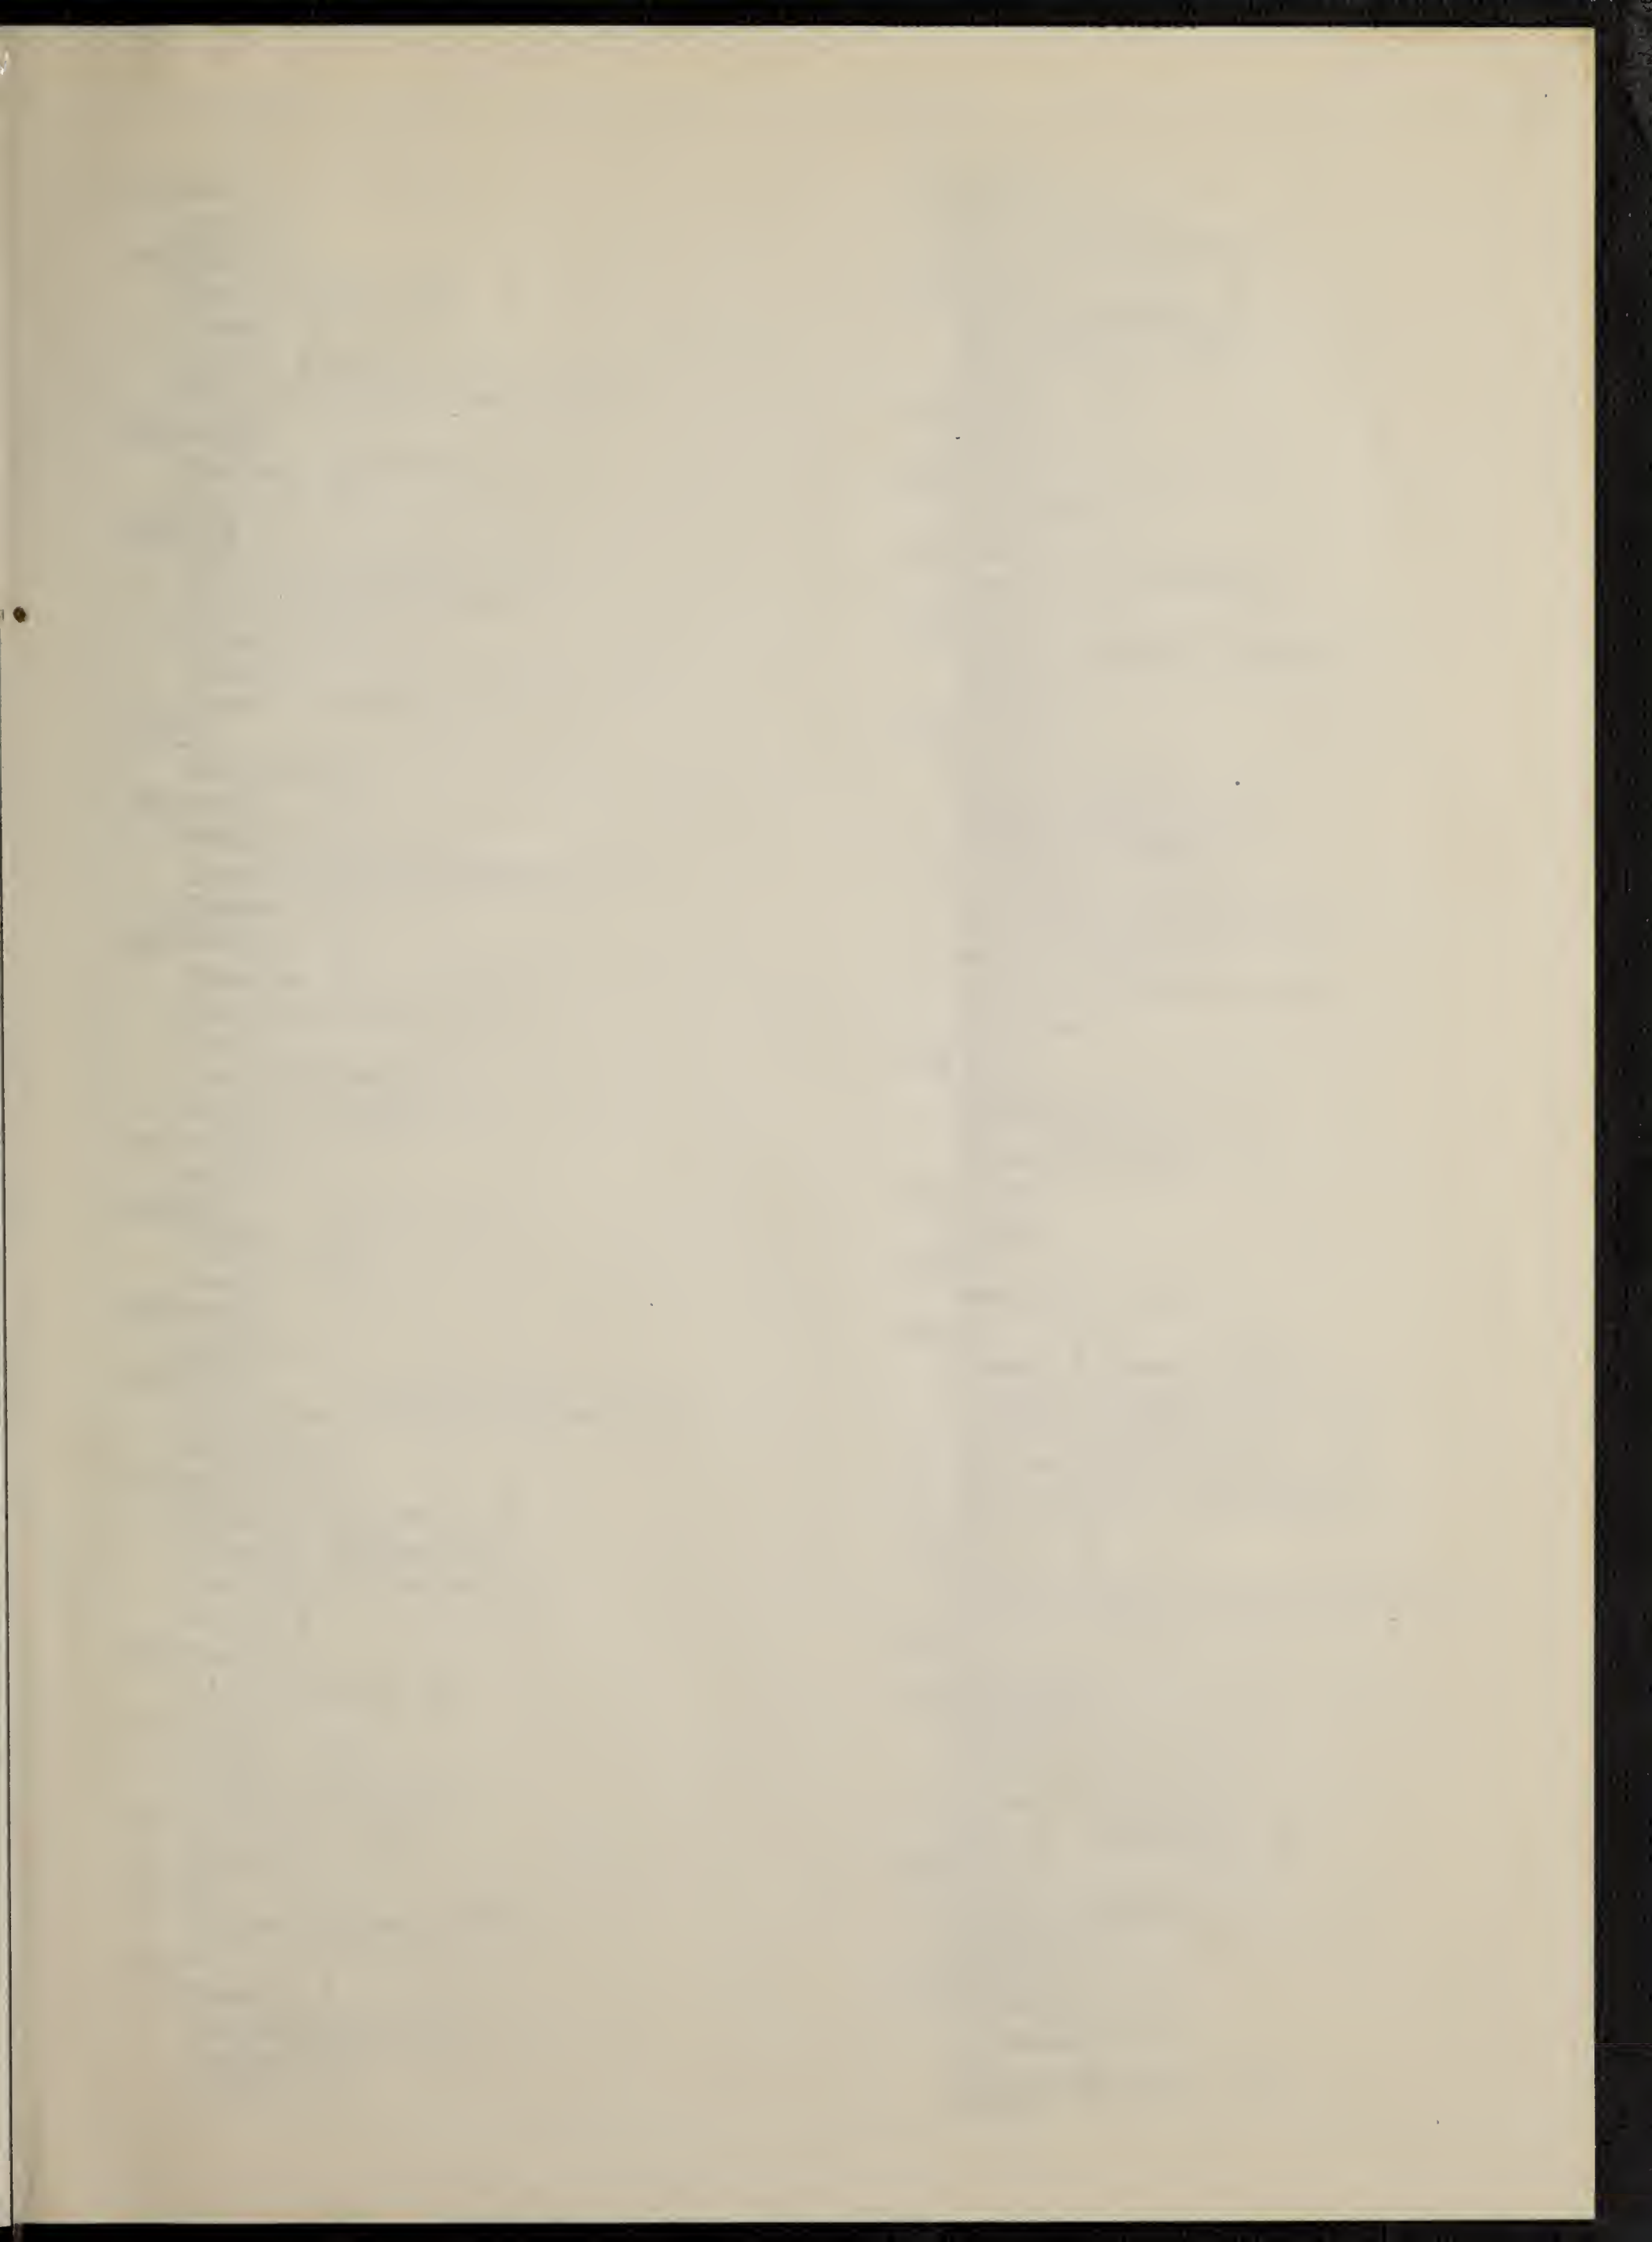

From Way-- Facts and Historical Events of the Toledo War.

The State of Ohio was now triumphant; a record could be made up and still exists to prove that the State of Ohio on the 7th day of Sept. 1835, exercised jurisdiction over the disputed territory by holding a court of Common Pleas in the form of Law"/
